

CAODS Bulletin - October/November 2017

Edited by Kim Anderson

What a show! What a week! Standing ovations, rapturous applause and incredible reviews shook everybody up at the Civic! Thanks must go to all our cast, crew, production team and helpers who made ASU such a success. Despite our lower than usual ticket sales @ 65.7%, All Shook Up only incurred a £1,700 loss - which was, thankfully, lower than anticipated - thanks to all budget holders for keeping a tight reign on their purse strings! Jean Pinkney, our Treasurer, has calculated that we need to sell 80% for DRS to break even - so no time like the present to get started folks!!! And as one show closes, another begins and our next production has already been auditioned and cast and everyone involved is keen to get started..... MEN - WE NEED YOU! Please come and support your society....

Thank you, Amanda.....

Some of you may not know that Amanda Parsons (pictured above) has been instrumental in assisting Jessica Broad getting our busy, new-ish, website up and running - always willing to help when we need to change, or try out new things. So we sent her this lovely basket of flowers to say how much we appreciate her support - thanks, Amanda x

QUIZ NIGHT

We are still awaiting final totals - although we did raise £133 for Farleigh Hospice from the raffle - but a great night was had by all! Thanks to Tracey, Diana, Corinne, Robyn and John Sullivan for all their help on the night - much appreciated.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Lots has been happening recently..... Rob Wicks, one of our MDs recently got married - congratulations to the happy couple.....Fae Goldsworthy recently celebrated her 70th birthday.....Martin Burgess is still strutting his stuff on stage having turned 80 recently.....And last, but not least, Jill Gordon & Jacob Burtenshaw got engaged! Lots of love to you all from your caods family xxx FYI - gmail and mail chimp (both of which are used to send emails out to members) have been experiencing a lot of glitches recently - please could we ask that you do not mark these emails as spam as, for some reason, this can mean that others do not receive the emails in their inboxes! Technology, eh....?

PREVIEW EVENING

Following the success of the preview evening for our last show, a date has already been set for DRS - VPs (and cast) save the date in your diaries for 7th February 2018!

REMINDER

That the box office for DRS is now open! Did you know that if you pay for your tickets by cash, you and the society make a saving on booking fees? Worth thinking about....
